HEROIN TASK FORCE TO MEET

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

A regional coalition looking to help save lives and reduce the impact of the heroin epidemic will be coming to Grant County.

The Northern Kentucky Heroin Impact Response Task Force (HIRT) plans to hold its next meeting at 9 a.m. May 12 at the Grant County Extension Office in Williamstown.

The group, which is open to anyone in the eight counties in the Northern Kentucky Area Development District (NKADD,) usually meets on the second Tuesday of each month at the Kenton County Detention Center.

However, officials in the five rural counties, including Grant County, have requested that the task force have a meeting in a more convenient location.

“The purpose of the HIRT meetings is to inform leaders throughout the NKADD of programs and development across the region so we all can accomplish the strategies and goals established within the collective plan to address the heroin epidemic developed in 2012 and introduced Nov. 14, 2014,” said Jim Thaxton, NKY Heroin Impact Response Task Force coordinator. “This month, members will be updated on the implementation of Senate Bill 192, new treatment programs, upcoming meetings and trainings, federal legislation and more.”

The task force originated after Dr. Jeremy Engel called an open meeting of stakeholders who were engaged in raising awareness about the heroin crisis in October 2012.

Nearly 50 people representing more than 40 different agencies and organizations met regularly to develop a plan called “Northern Kentucky’s Collective Response to the Heroin Epidemic: Our Plan for Recovery.”

The full plan can be found at: <http://drugfreenky.org/wp-content/uploads/2013/11/Northern-Kentuckys-Collective-Response-Final.pdf>.

Dry Ridge seeks police officers

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

The City of Dry Ridge is now seeking applications as it looks to expand its police department.

The city has an employment advertisement for police officers in this week’s Grant County News, as well as on the city’s website at www.cdrky.org.

The plan is to allocate $480,735 in next year’s budget for a police department that would include current Chief Rick Kells and three new officers.

However, the city would initially fund the hiring of two officers and any needed equipment and vehicles at an estimated $352,754 to make sure costs are not higher than expected.

“The plan is to hire two full-time officers that can start July 1, and then hire the next officer as appropriate,” said Mayor Jim Wells. “Depending on the applications we receive, we won’t know if a hiring list will be created or we will start the process of hiring over as the need to add officers presents itself.”

Police search for home invasion suspect

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

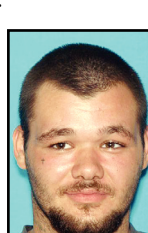

Kentucky State Police are searching for a 21-year-old man charged in connection with an April 26 home invasion in Dry Ridge.

George E. Pickett is wanted for his involvement in a home invasion robbery on Michigan Avenue that led to a bullet grazing a woman’s head.

Pickett is currently charged with first-degree robbery, first-degree burglary and second-degree unlawful transaction with a minor.

Police spent the afternoon of May 5 in hopes of locating Pickett in several Dry Ridge locations.

2015 GRANT COUNTIAN OF THE YEAR

Wills has lived, loved, lost in 95 years

By Jamie S. Baker
Publisher

Julian Wills didn’t know he was about to be named the 2015 Grant Countian of the Year as he sat smiling and greeting friends and neighbors in Williamstown’s gym on April 25.

His trademark dark glasses hid the look of surprise when the Grant County Chamber of Commerce’s annual award was given to him.

He looked around the room and it still didn’t sink in.

“It just didn’t dawn on me they were talking about me,” he said, from his bright, yellow kitchen, earlier this week.

Dust flew in the distance as the sounds of heavy earth-moving equipment permeated the sunny afternoon.

From Wills’ kitchen window, he has a front row seat to the many changes coming to Grant County, especially Williamstown when the Ark Encounter opens next year.

The project surrounds his home on three sides.

“This is a great thing for the city, county and state,” Wills said. “If we play our cards right, everything will be fine.”

Wills has played his cards right several times in his 95 years.

After graduating from Crittenden High School, he spent four years in the Army. He married Mary Frances Spegal and spent a couple of years working with dairy cattle and in corn, hay and tobacco on his family farm.

UPCOMING:

National Day of Prayer observed May 7

May 7 will be a day filled with prayer and outreach in Grant County in celebration of National Day of Prayer.

Members of several churches and the community are organizing several events throughout the day.

This is the seventh year the National Day of Prayer has been celebrated locally and all events are free and open to the public.

The day will begin with a prayer breakfast from 7 to 9 a.m. at Williamstown Baptist Church.

Community and government leaders will be leading prayers every 15 minutes while a free breakfast is served.

Prayer booths will be located outside Walmart and the Grant County Courthouse from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. with volunteers available to receive prayer requests and pray with those in need.

A free lunch will also be offered from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the courthouse lawn as individuals pray for the nation and world every 30 minutes.

From 6 to 7 p.m., a free dinner will be held on the courthouse lawn leading into the closing program.

The day-long event will end from 7 to 8 p.m. at the courthouse with a special service featuring a 60-man choir, a worship band and group prayer.

Corinth Fire Dept. plans Safety Day May 23

The Corinth Volunteer Fire Department will be hosting Safety Day from noon to 6 p.m. on Saturday, May 23 at the Dollar General Store on Ky. 330 in Corinth.

Firefighters will be present to meet the public, as well as show off the fire trucks and apparatus.

The Dollar General has donated free smoke detectors, which will be given away that day.

An inflatable slide will also be free to children.

Benefit to help family with medical expenses

Family and friends of Carl Bickers have organized a benefit from 1 to 4 p.m. on May 16 at Grant County Park in Crittenden.

The benefit will feature a raffle, food for sale, the Dirt Road Band and a car show.

In 2011, Bickers found out that he had Type 4 Diabetes. First, he had to have a toe removed on his right foot, which was only the beginning of many surgeries. Another toe was amputated later that same year. Eventually his left leg, below the knee, was removed in 2013. He, then, developed kidney failure, which led to dialysis in 2014.

For more information or to donate, call Teresa at 859-813-8154 or 859-638-7977.

Four people, including, Daniel M. Swope of Dry Ridge, were arrested last week in connection with the robbery.

Swope is charged with first-degree robbery, first-degree burglary and tampering with physical evidence.

Three juveniles were also charged with first-degree robbery and first-degree burglary.

During the home invasion, several masked and armed individuals allegedly broke into the residence.

A female who called 911 at 9:29 p.m. to report the invasion told the dispatcher that she had been pepper sprayed by the suspects and another female had been shot.

There were also other individuals inside the home during the home invasion and robbery, according to Trooper David Jones.

After the shooting, the suspects allegedly fled the home with a small amount of cash.

The female victim, whose name has not been released, was airlifted to the University of Cincinnati Medical Center.

She was last listed in stable condition.

Anyone with information about the whereabouts of Pickett is asked to call KSP at 859-428-1212.

Pitch, Hit, Run contest set for May 7

By Bryan Marshall
Staff Writer

Baseball fans can show off their skills May 7 in an event that could lead to a chance to play at Great American Ballpark in Cincinnati.

Major League Baseball's Pitch, Hit and Run contest will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Grant County Park in Crittenden.

The free competition is open to boys and girls ages 7 to 14 years old.

"Players with little baseball knowledge and a ton of baseball knowledge are welcome," said Ben Oldiges, Grant County Parks and Recreation director. "This event is so great because it allows the community to get involved with the Cincinnati Reds in more ways than just being a fan. It gets kids out and involved in the community and shows hard work can pay off with a big reward."

The contest features three skills competitions: pitch, hit and run.

The pitch portion tests how accurately a competitor can throw strikes to a designated "Strike Zone" target.

Six attempts will be made from 35 feet for the girls softball division and 45 feet for the boys baseball division.

Underhand and overhand pitching or throwing is accepted.

An attempt hitting any portion of the target will be considered a strike.

The hit portion tests a competitor's ability to hit from a stationary batting tee, along a tape measure from home plate, toward straight-away center-field.

Hits will be measured for distance and accuracy.

Each competitor will be allowed three swings in an attempt to hit the ball and only the best of the attempts will count toward a competitor's score.

A swing and a miss counts as one attempt.

The run portion will measure a competitor's speed in a sprint from the start line at second base, touching third base and touching home plate.

Participants in the boys baseball division run a total of 160 feet, while those in the girls softball division run a total of 120 feet.

Top performers will move on to a regional match and a chance to appear on the field in the 2015 MLB All Star Game in Cincinnati.

"Participants must have one of the top five combined scores in the region, which is Grant, Boone, Kenton, Pendleton and Campbell counties," Oldiges said. "From there, all the highest scores from each region will meet at Central Park in Boone County and compete for a chance to go to the Reds stadium."

For more information about MLB's Pitch, Hit and Run, call the parks office at (859)428-4500 or go to http://mlb.mlb.com/mlb/kids/mlb_pitch_hit_run.jsp.

City of Williamstown recognized for work in preventing childhood obesity

The National League of Cities (NLC) recognized the City of Williamstown and Mayor Rick Skinner for the recent completion of key health and wellness goals for Let's Move! Cities, Towns and Counties (LMCTC). LMCTC is a major component of First Lady Michelle Obama's comprehensive Let's Move! initiative to ensure that kids can grow up healthy. LMCTC works closely with elected officials nationwide to adopt policies that improve access to healthy affordable food and opportunities for physical activity for their constituents across five goal areas.

"We congratulate Williamstown, Kentucky for their dedication to building a healthier community for children and families," said NLC President Ralph Becker, Mayor, Salt Lake City, Utah. "Through the tireless leadership and action of local elected officials in the cities, towns and counties across the country, we hope to see continued progress in reversing America's epidemic of childhood obesity."

Based upon Williamstown's Let's Move! Cities,

Towns and Counties survey responses, the National League of Cities is honored to award Williamstown, a gold medal in Goal IV: Model Food Service, bringing the city's medal total to five gold medals! Williamstown is now at rank #1 in the country among the 465 communities participating. The City is one of only 25 communities in the country, the first in Kentucky, and smallest by population to complete all five goals!

"Since becoming mayor, one of my main goals has been to make sure the children in Grant County have places to play and are exposed to healthy foods. I am very pleased that Williamstown has received this recognition," Mayor Skinner said.

All LMCTC sites have the opportunity to earn up to five gold medals, one for each actionable goal to which they commit to as part of the initiative. Medals are awarded to local elected officials based on their achievements in each of the following five goal areas:

Goal I: Start Early, Start Smart: Promoting best practices for nutrition, physical activity, and screen time in early care and education settings.

Goal II: My Plate, Your Place: Prominently displaying MyPlate in all municipal or county venues where food is served.

Goal III: Smart Services for Students: Expanding access to meal programs before, during and after the school day, and/or over summer months.

Goal IV: Model Food Service: Implementing healthy and sustainable food service guidelines that are aligned with the Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

Goal V: Active Kids at Play: Increasing opportunities for physical activity.

NLC is working in partnership with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and with the support of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the National Association of Counties and other non-profit organizations, to assist local elected officials who join LMCTC as they implement policy and environmental changes to prevent childhood obesity, including those participating in LMCTC.

More than 465 cities, towns and counties are participating in LMCTC, and more than 70 million Americans are now living in LMCTC communities that are dedicated to helping young people eat healthy foods and by physically active. Each month, NLC recognizes local elected officials who achieve key benchmarks for the five LMCTC goals. Since July 2012, NLC has awarded 2,249 bronze, silver, and gold medals to recognize local elected officials across the country for their LMCTC progress.

GUEST COLUMNS

Superintendent proud of district, students

As the Superintendent of the Williamstown Independent School district, I am extremely proud of our students’ individual, as well as, group accomplishments. Add to that the recognitions and accomplishments of the staff and/or their programs and it’s no wonder we are recognized by the state as a “Proficient” school district.

In 2012, Williamstown Independent received District Accreditation from AdvancEd by meeting/surpassing seven rigorous standards of a quality school system. In addition, the Williamstown Senior High School has been recognized as a silver or bronze medalist, three out of the last five years, from the U.S. News and World Report, Best High School Rankings. As a district, we have partnered with the University of Kentucky to participate in its P20 Innovation Lab and Next Generation Leadership initiative.

Through this partnership the district continues to work on a variety of personalized learning pathways, which not only include highly effective teachers and world class knowledge/skills, but also mastery learning, student agency, digital resources, and anytime, anywhere learning. The district continues to add devices to its one to one technology initiative and through various partnerships has provided teacher training in “21st Century Learning” strategies.

Recently the district flooded its facilities with wireless access in order to kick off a “BYOD” program, which also includes two wireless school buses.

The district, through partnerships with the Boone County School District, has increased the number of career pathways. Students in their 11th and 12th grade years may attend the Boone County Area Technology Center to be educated in a variety of programs that include; auto body, metal fabrication, diesel mechanics, nursing, welding, etc. Furthermore, the district has been able to offer agriculture and consumer science classes on campus.

In partnership with Northern Kentucky University and Gateway Community and Technical College our dual credit program has expanded. Juniors and seniors who participate in these courses do so at minimal or no cost via scholarships provided by the district and the Williamstown Independent Scholarship Educational (WISE) Trust Fund. Combined with AP courses and the increased pass rate our high school has experienced on these exams, we have several seniors graduating with as many as 36 college credit hours.

In 2014 –15 the district opted to participate in the Community Eligibility Option, just another example of the district’s commitment to reducing barriers to learning. This option is a federal program that provides free breakfast and lunch to all students attending Williamstown Independent Schools regardless of the parents’ income. Accord-

A WORD FROM OUR READERS

Football boosters, high school need to work together

I am a current Grant County Football Booster officer and a board member of the Braves Youth Football league. I have been involved in football for the past 10-plus years.

Currently the boosters only fund the middle school and youth programs. The high school is not involved with the booster organization after many years of helping to build the program that you see today.

It’s disappointing that all parties involved can’t work together and discuss the issues and come to a solution. Who is this hurting? The kids and the football program as a whole.

Recently, it has come to light that the youth program is not allowed to use the high school field since it is just “too much wear and tear” on the field. The youth league will only need to use the field for five days during the season. It has always been exciting for the young players to have an opportunity to play on the high school field.

We use the field on Sundays as to not interfere with other school activities or functions.

The facilities are cleaned thoroughly after the events. Why should we be left without a field to play the games? Those parents pay taxes and their children attend the local schools.

We are left searching for solutions year after year. It’s just not fair to these kids who want to play football. These are the future middle and high school players that are forced to play elsewhere because our administration and organizations cannot come to a solution.

We have a handful of people that work twice a week to run the bingo hall, which funds these programs.

The following amounts were distributed personnel to more effectively monitor hallways, parking lots etc. for intrusion, vandalism and student behavior.

Local law enforcement will also have access to the system. Secure vestibules will be added to both the elementary and middle/high school entrances along with a more up-to-date door locking system. Upon completion of this project our buildings will be safer and more secure than ever before.

With all the safety, resources, programs, highly qualified staff, career paths, college opportunities, athletics, co-curricular activities such as band, chorus, FFA, FCCLA and special interest clubs, I still worry from time to time about whether we are truly meeting the needs of all our students when it comes to the district’s mission.

Fortunately, I was encouraged recently while participating as a panel member during our senior exit project presentations, I was reminded by our wonderful, amazing students as to why Williamstown Independent is the best choice for parents when I heard words/phrases like friendly, lots of school spirit, opportunities, strict, accepting of different beliefs, academically oriented, encouraging, challenging, disciplined, taught me to be a good citizen, I feel safe, teachers are experts in their field, gave me a passion to want to learn outside the classroom, teachers care, etc. As I listened and wrote the comments from the students’ themselves, I felt that sense of worry disappear and the love for my chosen profession renewed.

SKINNER

Williamstown
Superintendent

ing to the district’s Food Service Director, Paula Hendy the CEP Option has proven to be highly successful especially in reducing stigma associated with the previous free and/or reduced lunch program participants.

This summer, the district will be undergoing a new building project paid for by monies that are designated for buildings only. This project is the culmination of training and research over the past few years into ways we can better protect our students while in our care. The board of education feels this is an extremely important project in light of the school violence trends on both state and national levels. Staff members have participated in “active shooter” training and the district has adopted the “Positive Behavior Interventions” system recommended by the Kentucky Center for School Safety (KCSS). Students have access to a confidential student tip line in order to report any suspicious behavior. This service is provided to the district free of charge through the KCSS. In this new project the building will be more systematically covered with video cameras thus allowing school to the football programs from 2010-2014 for a total of $ 495,909.75. The youth league received $53,882.34, while the middle school was given $91,922.02 with the high school receiving $350,105.39.

If you wonder why the same people continue to stay in their positions ask yourself who is willing to step up?

If not for a faithful few people, such as the GCFB founders Vicki and Vernon Webster, who started the football boosters over 20 years ago, this program would no longer be in existence.

DOWN AND DIRTY

Tomato plants like it warm

I waited. I hope you did, too! My tomatoes and peppers are finally ready to be planted now that the forecast calls for warm spring nights. Tomatoes love two things: good drainage and heat. If you have struggled with tomatoes in the past consider what makes them most content when preparing the garden and setting your plants out.

First things first: always wait until our frost free date (on average this is May 10th, give or take a week depending on where you are located). After the frost free date the average air and soil temperature is usually warm enough for tomatoes to function efficiently. Soil temperatures should be at least 55 degrees and the ambient night-time air temperature should be above 58 degrees otherwise the plant will be stunted and less vigorous. The ideal growing conditions for growth, fruit set and ripening are daytime temperatures in the 80's, nighttime temperatures in the 60's.

Now that we are ready to plant I can almost guarantee a successful season if you prepare the soil with lots of compost. This provides a slow release of nutrients throughout the entire season; it also dramatically improves drainage while retaining even moisture. Over fertilization can stress the plant so compost is far superior to weekly conventional stimulants. For example, too much nitrogen will encourage leafy growth at the expense of bloom. Lack of magnesium, which aids in chlorophyll production and respiration of plants, can also delay fruit set. Compost delivers a slow, healthy dose of both.

When you plant pinch off the lower sets of leaves and sink the plant as deep as you can. Additional roots will develop at the leaf nodes thus making a stronger plant in the long run. Once the plant is set than mulch it well in order to control weeds, prevent soil from splashing on the plant (which is one of the primary ways that disease spreads to your plant), and to moderate soil moisture (important in controlling blossom end rot). Use any natural mulching material; I typically use newspaper with grass clipping on top. I have found that the newspaper-grass clipping combo works great as winter mulch for weed control, by next spring it has broken down enough that I simply turn it back into the soil.

I cannot emphasize the use of mulch enough. It means that during times of drought you will have to irrigate very little and it moderates soil moisture and temperature, which keeps the plant producing. Tomatoes rather like being a bit on the dry side; rapid fluctuations in soil moisture cause one of the most common tomato conditions know as blossom end rot (as well as being a contributor to blossom drop, leaf curl, and splitting fruit). When plants fluctuate between too wet and too dry a calcium deficiency develops in the plant which then causes the blossom end of the fruit to rot. You can avoid all of this with a good layer of mulch.

Healthy plants that receive a slow, natural source of nutrients; have adequate moisture and excellent drainage will resist pest problems on their own. If you rotate your crop, keep the garden weed-free and mulch your plants, you will further avoid many of the diseases that plague tomatoes. Remove leaves as they appear infected and don't inadvertently spread it by handling healthy plants afterwards.

FAITH & VALUES

GRACE NOTES

It's the party, dummy!

You know what really irks me? When people at work don't turn off the bathroom light when they're done.

Our company is trying to reduce expenses and one of the easiest things to do is Turn. Off. The. Light!

I don't know if it's a problem with the men's bathroom, although I'm guessing it is. So, men: Turn. Off. The. Light. Too!

There, I said it, and that sure felt good.

That irks me, but what really irks me is how well-meaning religious people misrepresent God and what it means to be a Christian. I think about this a lot, mainly because I have a number of people I pray for regularly to find faith in Christ. However, from comments some of them make, I think they think that being a Christian means you have to become weird, live a life of guilt and frustration trying to follow a bunch of rules and never really feel comfortable in your own skin.

Also, they seem to think that God loves sinners and welcomes them as his own through faith in Jesus, which is true, but that once you're in the family his love turns conditional. "You may be saved by grace, but once that happens you need to toe the line, mind your p's and q's, work hard to justify your gift of salvation," they believe.

They've heard things like, "Yes, God's grace is amazing, but don't take advantage of it" and "Jesus died for you, now what are you willing to do for him?"

Some Christians (and most non Christians) believe that church is a place you go to feel bad about yourself so you'll be prodded to go out and be better.

Guilt is a great motivator, except it doesn't last. Or if it does, it just makes you insecure, neurotic and depressed. So, you fake it, which just makes being a Christian look like a miserable existence — and who would want that?

Not the people I'm praying for, and that irks me.

Recently, I heard a pastor talk about this very thing. He was cranky too about the way some Christians misuse the scriptures to keep people in line,

Nancy KENNEDY

Grace Notes

in particular the scripture about how God disciplines all he considers to be his children (Hebrews 12:3-13).

He said some interpret that to mean if you mess up, God will send bad things your way — your business will fail, your dog will eat your favorite shoes, you'll get an ugly rash on your face.

He said, "I can't tell you how many times I've been with Christians going through hard times who inevitably ask, 'What did I do wrong?'"

It doesn't help that well-meaning people come along and say, "You must have sin in your life or this wouldn't be happening to you."

He said, "If there was a direct correlation between your sin and bad things happening, we'd all be dead."

But that's what some people think.

He said the Greek word for discipline does not mean punishment, but "instruction and restraint." Sometimes it involves pain, but it's not punishment. Jesus took our deserved punishment at the Cross.

So, God doesn't punish us, and he's not poised to pounce on us when we stray. He doesn't play gotcha, takes no delight in our suffering, even if it's the result of our own actions. He uses our pain to get our attention and then he shows us mercy and grace.

For God, the pastor said, it's all about the party he's throwing for us.

It's about freedom and laughter and being secure in his love. It's about knowing you're forgiven everything — past, present and future.

It's about being given someone else's righteousness and not being required to pay it back or even pay it forward, although sometimes you do because you overwhelmingly want to.

It's about God gathering party guests, calling his children home, even running to greet them with open arms as they stumble toward him, often broken and battered, in desperate need of kindness and forgiveness, which he offers freely, no strings attached.

"Does God discipline? Of course he does," the pastor said. "He's your Father, and he loves you so much that there can't be a party unless you're there. It's the reason he disciplines. It's the party, dummy!"

"Therefore, lift your drooping hands and strengthen your weak knees," the writer of Hebrews says.

We've got a party to go to.

Students visit FBLA regional spring leadership conference

Recently, Grant County High School students traveled to Northern Kentucky University to represent the Future Business Leaders of America at the FBLA Regional Spring Leadership Conference.

These students had the opportunity to compete in a wide range of business and other career related areas. The assessments were presented in the form of exams, presentations, reports, speeches, skits, and impromptu scenarios.

The chapter represented the school in a professional manner while placing in several events. The chapter itself received second place for activities documented in the scrapbooking division, and 3rd place for number of members.

In addition, the chapter placed in individual events. Selina Webster placed first in job interview; Genevieve Risner and Paige Wells placed first in name tag design and networking concepts; Stephen Raleigh II placed second place for his recruitment video in the digital video production category and Shelby Newton placed second in introduction to business and Austin Beach placed third for his public service announcement.

The conference was a way for students to showcase their knowledge and skills. Those who place in the top three of each region are eligible to compete for honors at the state and national levels.

Demons down Gallatin in late rally

By Tim Seevers
Sports Correspondent

The Williamstown Demons baseball team defeated Gallatin County on May 4 by a score of 10-2.

By looking at the score, it might appear the game was lopsided but the Demons trailed 2-0 heading into the fifth inning.

They were able to muster up a run in the fifth but still trailed heading into the bottom half of the sixth.

Combined with a couple of errors and several of hits, the Demons were able to plate nine runs in the bottom half of the sixth inning.

With each batter stepping to the plate they just kept adding hits until the nine runners touched home.

Jacob Scroggins, Corey Fryman, Derek Cummins, Trace Good, Caleb Thompson, Chris Parsons, Jimmy Fryman, Austin Jones and AJ Scroggins would all collect hits that would prove to be the demise of Gallatin County.

In fact, Corey Fryman, Cummins, Good, Parsons, Jimmy Fryman, and Jones would have multiple-hit games.

Jimmy Fryman led the way with three hits on the night. The Demons pounded out 16 hits in all.

Caleb Thompson went the distance on the mound pitching seven solid innings.

He gave up two runs and scattered seven hits throughout the game, striking out four.

The Demons evened their record at 8-8 with the win.

The Williamstown Demons baseball team got off to a great start in the early innings on their way to a 10-0 win over Silver Grove on April 29.

The Demons plated five runs in the second inning.

It all started when Trace Good reached on an error and quickly stole second base. Cole Kemper doubled him home.

Kemper scored when Austin Jones doubled down the line.

He stole third and came home on a single to center by AJ Scroggins.

He stole second and then scored on Corey Fryman's single. Fryman moved up on a passed ball and scored when Chris Parson singled.

In the fourth inning, Jacob Scroggins led off and was hit by the pitch.

He promptly stole second and then third.

Corey Fryman walked and then Derek Cummins hit into a fielder's choice when he grounded to short. Scroggins scored on the play making it a 6-0 game.

In the bottom of the fifth, Good led off with a double.

He stole third on the first pitch and was singled home on Cole Kemper's single up the middle.

Kemper then moved up to second on a passed ball and scored on Jimmie Fryman's single.

Fryman went to second when Austin Jones bunted and the catcher had no other play but to first.

Fryman then went to third on a passed ball and came in to score when AJ Scroggins singled to center.

Jacob Scroggins then singled up the middle and Corey Fryman reached on an infield single that loaded the bases.

With the bases loaded, Derek Cummins walked to bring in the decisive 10th run.

Caleb Thompson started and pitched two innings. He gave up one hit and struck out three batters.

Derek Cummins pitched two innings giving up three hits and striking out two. Austin Jones pitched one inning striking out two of the three batters he faced.

It was a total team effort at the plate and on the mound for the Demons.

Lady Demons earn six consecutive win

By Tim Seevers
Sports Correspondent

The Williamstown Lady Demon softball team won its sixth game in a row on May 4, disposing of Lloyd Memorial in six innings by the score of 12-2.

Jade Pinkston was the winner on the mound giving up only two runs and three hits over the six innings that she pitched.

Williamstown got going early in the first inning.

Emily Ison reached on a throwing error by the pitcher.

Katie Cheek was hit by a pitch. Pinkston singled in Ison and Kaylin Peer hit into a fielder's choice as she laid down a bunt to advance the runners to second and third.

Cierra Magee then hit a long fly ball to center field which allowed Cheek to tag up and score from third. Pinkston would trot home on a wild pitch.

The Lady Demons would score three more runs in the third.

Pinkston led off with a double. She stole third.

Peer reached on an infield single. She stole second.

Pinkston would score on a passed ball and Peer moved up to third. On the next pitch, she scored on a passed ball.

With one out, Jennifer Wyatt tripled. She would later score when Kiki Johnson grounded out to short.

In the next inning, the Lady Demons would score four more runs.

Katie Cheek reached by being hit by a pitch. She reached all four times she was at the plate by being hit by a pitch.

They both would move up on a wild pitch and both scored when Pinkston got her second single of the night.

Pinkston then stole second and came home on a single by Cierra Magee.

Magee moved around the bases on a passed ball and fielder's choice groundout by Wyatt and then scored on Kemper's single.

Leading 10-2 heading into the sixth inning, the Alyssa Wilson catches a strike from the WHS Lady Demons pitcher.

Lady Demons once again would end up on the winning side of things when they combined two walks and three hits in the bottom half of the inning to win.

The Lady Demons are 11-7 on the season.

This is the busy time of the season with making up earlier games that were rained out and continuing with the games that were already scheduled.

The Lady Demons seem to be peeking at the right time with this winning streak they have been enjoying over the last 10 days.

Lady Demons Continue Winning Ways

The Williamstown Lady Demon softball team has been rolling as of late.

They won their fifth straight game on April 29, scoring two in the bottom of the eighth inning to win the game 7-6 over the Eagles of Lexington Christian.

The Lady Demons collected six hits in the first two innings, including a triple by Jade Pinkston, to plate four runs.

But the bats went silent. After collecting the early hits that led to runs, the Demons would not get another hit until the sixth inning.

Pinkston would get her second extra base hit of the game, a double to deep center that plated the tying run in the sixth.

Pinkston would be on base in all five plate appearances.

She was also hit by a pitch and reached first base on a passed ball after striking out in the fourth.

She drew the walk which led to the winning run in the eighth.

Pinkston also collected four runs batted in on the night.

She was also able to get out of a pitching jam when the Lexington Christian Eagles left the bases loaded in the sixth and had a runner on third with only one out in the seventh.

The defense behind her was solid all night long.

The eighth inning started with a runner on second base.

The Eagles were able to score that runner.

Extra inning games are played under International Fastpitch Softball rules where the person who made the last out the previous inning automatically starts at second base without having to bat. The runner was able to score giving the Eagles a 6-5 lead.

The Lady Demons started their half of the eighth with a runner at second also. Delaney Kemper moved up to third on a passed ball and then scored on a close play at the plate when Emily Ison grounded to shortstop.

With Ison on first, Katie Cheek stepped to the plate.

Ison stole second and then moved up to third base when Cheek laid down a bunt and was thrown out at first base.

The Eagles huddled up with their coach at the mound and made the decision to walk Pinkston who had already had the two big hits.

With the count 3-0, the Eagles pitcher uncorked a wild pitch on ball four that allowed the speedy Ison to score the winning run.

Grant County Relay For Life fundraising events

The Grant County Relay For Life season is underway.

This year's Relay For Life is planned for Friday, May 15 at Grant County Park. It will kick off with a survivor dinner for all local cancer survivors at 6 p.m. followed by opening ceremonies at 7 p.m.

A luminaria ceremony honoring those lost to cancer and those battling cancer will be held at 11 p.m.

For the 2015 Relay For Life, the event is changing from a 12-hour event to a six-hour event. There will be activities, games and contests from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. on May 16.

The relay for life is an annual fundraising event for the American Cancer Society. Teams of eight to 15 members from various businesses, organizations and families raise money and agree to walk and participate in the night of fun, fellowship and remembrance of those battling cancer and those lost to cancer.

Upcoming relay activities include:

Forcht Bank is making a difference in the fight against cancer.

• Thursday May 7 - "Throw It Thursday" - Vote for your favorite Forcht Bank employee to have a pie thrown in their face. Every penny counts.

Friday May 8 - "Frankfurter Friday" - Hot dogs, a bag of chips, a sweet and a drink will be available from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. $5.

Ongoing relay activities include:

• Crop For A Cure - July 17 and July 18. Call 859-743-1667 or 859-824-4282 for more information.

The city council unanimously made the decision to expand its police department during its April 20 meeting after previously hearing proposals from Dry Ridge Police Chief Rick Kells and the Grant County Sheriff's Office.

The city currently has a full-time police chief who works from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Police services are then supplemented from 8 p.m. to 6 p.m. seven days a week through a contract with Williamstown Police.

Dry Ridge pays the City of Williamstown $132,000 per fiscal year for the supplemental police services.

Williamstown will discontinue its agreement with Dry Ridge on June 30.

Wells has issues with the gaps in police coverage and wants a dedicated patrol unit that will remain in service 24 hours a day that will be responsible for patrolling the city limits, responding to and answering requests for service within the city limits and enforcing all city ordinances and requests for extra patrols as their primary coverage area.

The unit also will be responsible for patrolling the city park and working with any necessary agencies to reduce drug trafficking.

The city also wants a detective to follow up and work open cases to reduce the dependence on the patrol unit to work cases and not being available to provide adequate patrol functions.

The initial hiring process is expected to be the first step as the city hopes to ultimately expand to a chief, up to five officers and a detective.

"The public will immediately notice the presence of a community-oriented police department," Wells said about the added police presence. "They will notice our commitment to assign the department's resources during the greatest times of need and in the areas that need the most attention. I expect nothing less."

Since the council's decision, Wells said he has heard mixed feedback from the public.

"Some folks are excited about the city expanding its own department and some folks and businesses are apprehensive about the endeavor," Wells said. "The council has examined the information and has decided the expansion is the best course for the city's future. I can assure you we will make every effort to recruit and hire the best officers for the city. And together will tackle the issues plaguing our city."

Interested applicants can submit a cover letter with a resume attached to rick.kells@cdrky.org or by mail to: City of Dry Ridge Attn: Rick Kells P.O. Box 145 Dry Ridge KY 41035 by 5 p.m. May 26.

A copy of the job description is available on the city's website or at the City Clerk's office located at 31 Broadway.

"I am hopeful we will have a good selection to interview from," Wells said. "Ideally, a 'road-ready' officer that applies will offer the greatest benefit for the city. But, we may hire officers that will need to complete the academy before hitting the street."

HEROIN

HIRT evolved from the plan and began working on objectives outlined in the plan.

"HIRT and their members are ahead of schedule as many of the goals and objectives have already been realized," Thaxton said.

Among the successes the task force has work for is legislation to help fight heroin addiction.

SB 192, which was passed during the 2015 legislative session, immediately infused Kentucky's addiction treatment system with $10 million, followed by $24 million annually from money saved from prior judicial reforms designed to reduce prison costs by providing lawbreakers with drug treatment, among other things.

The bill also includes tougher penalties for heroin traffickers and greater use of life-saving drugs like Naloxone, which can reverse overdoses if administered in time, and Vivitrol, which has proven effective in weaning addicts off heroin.

A local-option needle-exchange program, which would reduce the prevalence of such blood-borne diseases as HIV and Hepatitis C and the prevalence of dirty needle sticks by law enforcement and the public, also is part of the law. Thirty-five states have something similar in place.

"The community has come together, stayed together, raised awareness, advocated for an omnibus heroin legislation, raised funds, distributed Naloxone, held town hall meetings, engaged the media, expanded treatment for adolescents, created an environment conducive to increase adult treatment including treatment for pregnant women with substance use disorders, gathered hard data and more," Thaxton said. "HIRT is made up dedicated selfless individuals with a common mission, vision and guiding principles."

WILLS: lived, loved, lost

He was going to apply for a job with the United States Postal Service, after talking with his friend, Brent Spence, a congressman in Washington, but his path went in a different direction when he accepted a job as an artificial insemination technician through the University of Kentucky's agricultural program.

"They told me I could make $50 a week as opposed to $20 a week," Wills said.

Wills spent the next eight years traveling from farm to farm in Grant County and inseminating 19,261 cows through the program.

"We went from about 30th in the state to fourth in those eight years," he said.

While working for UK, he also worked with the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association testing corn and tobacco seed. He also developed one of the first soil testing laboratories, which operated from 1947 to 1960.

In his spare time, he sold silos to local farmers.

Those jobs, helped him get to know many residents in the community, which led him to his foray into politics.

In 1955, Wills served as the Grant County Chairman for the A.B. "Happy" Chandler gubernatorial campaign. When Chandler won the office, he made Wills a maintenance supervisor for Grant, Pendleton, Bracken, Robertson and Harrison counties.

His next career started in front of the Grant County courthouse when he was hired to be Grant County's Farm Bureau agent, a position he held for nearly 30 years.

During that time, Wills worked with many 4-H and Future Farmers Of America students as chairman of the Grant County Extension Board, vice president of the Kentucky Extension Council president of the 5th District 4-H Council and 5th District Young Democratic Club and Grant County Farm Bureau Federation.

He was president of the now defunct Grant County Rotary Club, second president of the Eagle Creek Country Club and is a member of the Williamstown United Methodist Church.

He served as the chairman of the Grant County Democratic Party for seven years and a personal highpoint in politics, came in 1956 when he attended the Democratic National Convention in Chicago as a delegate.

Wills proudly has kept a letter from Adlai Stevenson II, the governor of Illinois, welcoming him to Chicago as part of the convention.

He's also smooth on his feet. He and Mary Frances won a jitterbug dance contest in 1963 at the Farm Bureau state convention and followed it up by winning a costume waltz contest in 1970 during Grant County's Sesquicentennial.

In the late 80s, Wills ran for Grant County judge-executive but eventually lost in the four-way race.

Of all the accolades and experiences he's had, Wills said the most rewarding was getting to know people and working with young people.

Wills is a intestinal and liver cancer survivor and believes in holistic medicine, specifically the use of hedge apples to treat cancer.

He's had visitors from as far away as the Ukraine requesting the fruit that grows in Wills' backyard.

"I believe that the good Lord provided all the medicine we need for any ailment," Wills said.

His daughter, Vicki Agee, is a breast cancer survivor.

Wills' philosophy on life is to try and do something for someone else on a daily basis. "It helps that I had a wife like Mary Frances," Wills said. "She was always right there to help me. Both of us were blessed with wonderful health, but I sure do miss her."

The Wills would have celebrated 72 years of married life on Nov. 24, but Mary Frances died Feb. 28, 2015.

Wills said his "secret" to a long life is remaining optimistic.

"You've got to see the bright side of every thing and you've got to like people. Most of the people I know I love," he said. "It also helps to have a great wife, daughter and family."

As far as a bucket list, Wills said he'd like to once again attend a Cincinnati Reds baseball game, but not until Pete Rose is inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame.

"I don't even watch them on TV," he said.

He sees nothing but good things coming to Grant County.

"I think everyone in Grant County will benefit from the Ark because I think Grant County will just take off. We just have to get hold of the controls and let her go," he said.

Wills has traveled to many exotic locales, but is a Grant County boy at heart.

"I've been to every state, Mexico and the Islands," he said. "I've been a lot of places and am content with what I've seen but nothing beats Kentucky and that's where I'm going to stay."

RELAY FOR LIFE OF GRANT COUNTY
Use your feet...and your heart.

Join your community in the fight against cancer! The American Cancer Society Relay For Life of Grant County will be held Friday, May 15th from 7pm-1am at Grant County Park! Teams will take turns walking, running or strolling around the track. Teams consist of individuals representing corporations, churches, clubs, organizations and families. During Relay For Life, team members enjoy games, food, music and camaraderie while camping out on the surrounding grounds.

At 11pm, all participants will share in a special Luminaria Ceremony to remember those individuals who have been affected by cancer. Candles will be lit in honor or memory of individual cancer patients and placed around the perimeter of the track. You are invited to support this effort by purchasing a Luminaria in honor of a loved one that has been touched by cancer. Simply fill out the form below and mail your order to the address listed.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT. FOR MORE INFORMATION, CALL 1-800-ACS-2345 OR VISIT WWW.CANCER.ORG.

Said real estate is situated in Grant County, Kentucky, and bounded as follows:
The following described real property situated in the City of Crittenden, County of Grant, and Commonwealth of Kentucky, to wit:
Situated in Grant County, Kentucky and being all of a certain lot in Grant County, Kentucky, known as Lot 51 in the Harvesters, Section Three, as recorded in Plat Book 6, Page 8 and 8.A of the Grant County Clerk's records, Williamstown, Kentucky.

Being the same property conveyed to Michael Glass and Beth Jacobs, both unmarried, from Mary Hallahan, unmarried, and Ronald C. Rose and Della L. Rose, husband and wife, by deed dated February 1, 2005 and recorded at Deed Book 305, Page 398; and further conveyed to Michael Glass and Beth Glass, husband and wife, from Michael Glass and Beth Glass f/k/a Beth Jacobs, husband and wife, by deed dated March 14, 2007 and recorded at Deed Book 324, Page 757, in the clerk's office of Grant County, Kentucky.

Property Address: 110 Barley Circle, Crittenden, KY
Parcel id no: 042-06-00-051.00

There is not a mobile home, doublewide and/or manufactured home included in the sale. Announcements made on the day of sale take precedence over printed material.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale is the principal sum of One Hundred Twenty Five Thousand Nine Hundred Forty Six Dollars and Ninety Five Cents ($125,946.95) together with accrued interest thereon to September 27, 2014, in the amount of Thirty Nine Thousand Six Hundred Seventy Five Dollars and Seven Cents ($39,675.07) and interest thereafter at the rate of Thirty Nine Dollars and Ninety Two Cents ($39.92) per day until the entire amount has been paid in full; together with advancements for the protection of the property, including taxes and insurance (negative escrow) in the amount of One Thousand Three Hundred Sixty Dollars and Sixty Two Cents ($1,360.62) and together with Late Charges in the amount of Five Hundred Ninety Four Dollars ($594.00) and together with attorneys' fees in the amount of Two Thousand Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($2,250.00) and court costs in the amount of Two Thousand Three Hundred and One Dollars ($2301.00); less a credit for Unapplied Funds in the amount of Two Hundred Thirty Five Dollars and Twenty Eight Cents (-$235.28).

The real estate shall be sold on the terms of 10% cash at the time of the sale, except that said deposit shall be waived if the Plaintiff is the successful bidder at the sale, and the balance on a credit of thirty (30) days bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum for the date of sale. When the purchase price is paid in full, the deed will be delivered to the purchaser. It is further provided that the property sold includes insurable improvements and the successful bidder at said sale shall, at bidder's own expense, carry fire and extended insurance coverage on said improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is fully paid in the amount of the Court appraised value of said improvements or the amount of the unpaid balance of the purchase price, whichever is less, at minimum, with a loss payable clause to the Commissioner of the Grant Circuit Court and the Plaintiff herein. Failure of the purchasers to obtain such insurance shall not affect the validity of the sale or the purchaser's liability thereunder, but shall entitle, but not require, the Plaintiff to obtain said insurance and furnish the policy or premium thereon or the proper portion thereof shall be charged to the purchaser as purchaser's costs.

The aforesaid property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the following:

- All unpaid state, county and city real estate taxes for the year 2015;
- Easements, restrictions, and stipulations of record;
- Assessments for public improvements levied against the property;

Jacobs; thence with the line of the latter N 80-56-24 W 202.83 feet to the place of beginning, containing 0.430 acre, more or less. The above described parcel of ground, which is in accordance with a survey by Gerald G. Caldwell, Registered Land Surveyor, LS 499 on 3 October 1992, is subject to the right of way for KY St. Rt. 36. Being the same property conveyed to Theodore Mount, single who acquired title by virtue of a deed from Levi Eversole and Tracy L. Eversole, husband and wife, dated February 24, 1998, recorded March 5, 1998, at Deed Book 237, Page 528, Grant County, Kentucky records.

Property Address: 14598 Jonesville Road, Dry Ridge, KY 41035

There is not a mobile home, doublewide and/or manufactured home included in the sale.

Announcements made on the day of sale take precedence over printed material.

The amount of money to be raised by this sale is the principal sum of $66,843.29, together with accrued interest thereon to August 29, 2013, and interest thereafter at the rate of 10% from August 29, 2013 (per diem interest in the amount of $18.31 until the entire amount has been paid in full; plus late fees, costs, attorney's fees, and other advances made pursuant to the terms of the Note and Mortgage as Plaintiff is hereby permitted to demonstrate by Affidavit and Motion for Supplemental Judgment at any time prior to distribution of the proceeds from the sale.

The real estate shall be sold on the terms of 10% cash at the time of the sale, except that said deposit shall be waived if the Plaintiff is the successful bidder at the sale, and the balance on a credit of thirty (30) days bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum for the date of sale. When the purchase price is paid in full, the deed will be delivered to the purchaser. It is further provided that the property sold includes insurable improvements and the successful bidder at said sale shall, at bidder's own expense, carry fire and extended insurance coverage on said improvements from the date of sale until the purchase price is fully paid in the amount of the Court appraised value of said improvements or the amount of the unpaid balance of the purchase price, whichever is less, at minimum, with a loss payable clause to the Commissioner of the Grant Circuit Court and the Plaintiff herein. Failure of the purchasers to obtain such insurance shall not affect the validity of the sale or the purchaser's liability thereunder, but shall entitle, but not require, the Plaintiff to obtain said insurance and furnish the policy or premium thereon or the proper portion thereof shall be charged to the purchaser as purchaser's costs.

The aforesaid property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, except the following:

- All unpaid state, county and city real estate taxes for the year 2015;
- Easements, restrictions, and stipulations of record;
- Assessments for public improvements levied against the property;
- Any facts which an inspection and/or accurate survey of the property may disclose.

*** **

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale entered in the Grant Circuit Court on April 9, 2015, I will sell at public auction at the Judicial Center Lobby, 224 South Main Street, Williamstown, Kentucky, the property described herein located in Grant County, Kentucky, on WEDNESDAY, May 20, 2015, at the hour of 11:00 a.m., prevailing time, and more particularly described as follows:

Said real estate is situated in Grant County, Kentucky, and bounded as follows:

Lying and being in Grant County, Kentucky on the South side of Kentucky Route #491, 1.0 miles west of Kentucky Route #1548 and more particularly described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at a P.K. nail in the center of Kentucky Route #491 and a corner to Paul G. Harp and the Grantor's original 4.3556 acre tract; thence with the center of said road, South 82 degrees 02 minutes 51 seconds East, 68.75 feet; thence South 76 degrees 06 minutes 00 seconds East, 119.81 feet; thence South 69 degrees 48 minutes 22 seconds East, 55.64 feet to a P.K. nail; thence with a new made line partitioning the Grantor's property, South 27 degrees 56 minutes 05 seconds West, 376.07 feet to an iron pin in the line of Paul G. Harp; thence with said lines, North degrees 21 minutes 23 seconds West, 167.10 feet to an iron pin; thence North 6 degrees 57 minutes 02 second West, 227.59 feet to the place of beginning containing 1.0790 acres more or less, exclusive of all right of ways and easements of records.

The above description was prepared by Hicks and Mann, Inc. on the 9th October 1992.

Being all of that certain property conveyed to Andrew E. Reeves and Lisa M. Reeves, Husband and Wife from Scott Chandley and Sara Chandley, Husband and Wife by Deed date June 27, 1997 and Recorded July 17, 1997 in Book 231, Page 628 in the land records of Grant County, KY.

Subject to and together with all easements, restrictions and legal highways, if any, of record. There is not a mobile home, doublewide and/or manufactured home included in the sale and/or located on the real property.

Property Address: 1690 Lebanon Road, Crittenden, KY 41030

Parcel Number: 031-00-00-109.00
